"Where Quality and Price Meet."

ANOTHER PEST COMPE-TITION.

Another competition for the destruction of crows, magpies and gophers has been arranged by the department of agriculture, which is offering cash prizes totalling $2,500 for the largest number of eggs, tails and feet belonging to the respective pests. The terms of the competition are the same as last year, with separate classes for game protective associations, individuals and schools. September 1 will be the date limit.

Regulations Prepared
Regulations applying to the competition have been prepared and are being distributed through the office of the game commissioner.

The crow and gopher population of the province is still too large, according to B. Lawton, game commissioner, and there is need of continued campaigning against these pests if game and insectivorous birds are to be kept in Alberta, to say nothing of the inroads on the crops. Great benefits have resulted from previous crow-and-gopher contests, and it is expected that there will again be a wide response this year.

WEDDING.

Bartz-Jans.

A very pretty wedding took place on Sunday afternoon, May 20th, at 2 o'clock, when Elsie Ida, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bartz, was united in marriage to Mr. Edward Jans of Didsbury.

The bride was gownned in white satin and lace and carried a shower bouquet of pink roses. The veil was worn cap fashion. Ella Bartz and Ruth Papke, attending as bridesmaids, wore valencia crepe-de-chine. Florence Kenschuk and Helen Mopn acted as flower girls. The groom was attended by Adam Kenschuk and Otto Bartz. Greta Bartz played the wedding march.

The marriage was solemnized at the St. John's Lutheran Church of Didsbury, Rev. C. Nissen officiating.

After the ceremony the bridal couple proceeded to the home of the bride, where a bounteous supper was served to more than one and thirty guests.

The numerous gifts which the bride received showed the high esteem in which she was held by all.

Mr. and Mrs. Jans will reside in Didsbury where he is engaged in carpentry.

ELECTRICITY EXPECTED
BY JULY 31st.

Electricity will be turned on by July 31 in the principal towns on the C.P.R. line from Calgary to Red Deer, according to present plans of the Calgary Power Co. officials of the company stated on Monday morning.

Poles have been erected and wires strung along most of the distance between Airdrie and Olds, and from Olds to Penhold. The company operates a plant at Olds at the present time, and this plant will furnish the power south to Airdrie and north to Penhold when the juice is turned on the end of July.

Towns affected include Didsbury, Airdrie, Crossfield and Carstairs south of Olds, and on the north the towns include Innisfail, Bowden and Penhold.

RUGBY NOTES

In honor of Empire Day, a large crowd gathered at Rugby on Friday evening. Our celebration took the form of a banquet, and nearly one hundred guests were present. The school and four long tables were gaily decorated with red white and blue by the "Oration Committee" and the school children. The tables were most efficiently waited on, by Messrs. Bert Smith, Charles Brown and Hosegood Bros. Miss Brubacher gave the first toast of the evening, "The King." After this other toasts were given by the pupils as follows: "The Empire" by Margaret Shannon, replied to by Bruce Swingle; "Canada" by Walter Cook, and Mary Prettiore; "Alberta" by Albert Krebs and Donald Shannon; "Our Municipality" by Arnold Russell and Lawrence Oliver; "Rugby" by Alfre Cook and Milton Russell; "Our Guests" by Connie Hosegood.

Prizes were awarded to W. Cook and Bruce Swingle in the senior class, and to A. Cook and L.

Oliver in the junior. The judges Mrs. McArthur, Miss Geo. Brubacher, and Mr. N. Clarke. A most marked improvement could be noticed in the speeches made by the children, when compared with those given by them at Rugby on May 3rd, and very great credit is due to our energetic teacher, Miss R. Brubacher. Mr. Clarke gave us a short talk in his usual interesting manner, and we also had a few words from Mr. McArthur, and our genial secretary, Mr. W. Hughes. This, together with community singing, occupied the time until midnight when the national anthem was sung. All went home feeling that one more evening had been very pleasantly spent at Rugby School.

Didsbury Golf Club.

Members who have not yet paid their fees are requested to pay the secretary, Mr. J. Clark, before 15th June, as the funds are urgently required to meet expenses.

The call to attend a "cleaning-up bee" at the Olds cemetery on last Thursday week met with a general response, and all afternoon a large army of willing workers used spade, rake and hoe to excellent advantage with the result that the cemetery park now presents a picture of cleanliness, and if the good work is continued and an effort made to beautify each grave a scene of gorgeous splendour would greet the eye of the passer by on the much-used highway; also a great comfort to those who visit regularly the last resting place of their dear ones.—Olds Gazette.

Let Us Celebrate

A year ago the people of Canada engaged with a very real enthusiasm in the celebration of Dominion Day, the Diamond Jubilee of Confederation. It was, of course, an especially memorable anniversary and for weeks and months many committees of public-spirited citizens spent long hours in planning and preparation for the notable ceremonies which marked the sixtieth anniversary of Canada's birth. The effect of that general observance of Dominion Day from sea to sea, and the carefully planned and well executed programmes, including educational and historical features of great value, was at once noticeable in the greater pride and renewed confidence in Canada and its future which was displayed by the Canadian people.

The year which has since elapsed has been a year of expansion and prosperity throughout the Dominion. Steadily, even rapidly, the Dominion of Canada has grown in national stature and in international importance. It has commanded, and continues to command, an ever increasing interest in other countries, while outstanding men and women in realms of government, education, finance, commerce and industry, not only in Canada, but throughout the world, have referred to this Dominion as among the most favored of all lands, and the one country above all others which today offers the greatest opportunities and the brightest promise for the future.

The Diamond Jubilee celebrations of a year ago helped to arouse and to stimulate the national consciousness of the Canadian people, and, because no country can be truly great lacking a national spirit and consciousness, the celebrations last year have more than repaid all the time, thought and money on them.

It is not sufficient, however, to the cultivation and growth of a national spirit and national aspirations that the birthday of a nation be widely and fittingly observed once in every sixty or one hundred years. Individuals observe their anniversaries annually. Once a year every successful business establishment takes stock of its position, notes its gains or losses, and, in the light of the experience thus gained, plans future operations. Every year boys and girls reach that period in life when they grasp the inner meanings and depths of things to which formerly they gave little or no heed. A nation should, therefore, devote time and thought to a suitable recognition and observance of its national day in each and every year in order that its significance and all that it really represents may be impressed upon the minds and engraved in the hearts of its youth.

This article is a plea, therefore, to the people of Canada that they should profit by the experience of a year ago, and that Dominion Day this year, and in each succeeding year, should be more generally observed than was the case prior to last year. True, it is not possible that such annual observance be on the scale of the Dominion Jubilee celebrations, but Dominion Day can be observed each year in something more than the rather perfunctory manner which prevailed in most places prior to 1927.

It is gratifying to note in the columns of the weekly papers of Western Canada that steps are being taken in an unusually large number of communities to again fittingly celebrate Dominion Day this year. But the number of such places could be largely increased, and it is earnestly to be hoped that in those communities where, as yet, no definite action has been taken to organize citizens' committees for a proper celebration of Dominion Day, 1928, no further time will be lost in taking such action. It is a duty we owe to the growing youth of Canada that they be taught to observe the natal day of their country, and that through observance of Dominion Day a true love for and pride in Canada be developed.

One of Napoleon's hats, a well-worn specimen, has been sold at auction for $15,000. The hat will not leave France, since it was announced that the purchaser was a French army officer. ### SAME SYMPTOMS

IN MANY CASES

An Anaemic Condition Easily Recognized—Calls For a Blood Builder

In most cases of anaemia the symptoms are almost the same. The sufferer grows pale and is easily tired after the least exertion. The appetite is fickle and the patient loses in weight. Sometimes there are headaches, and often inability to sleep well. As the blood becomes thinner the symptoms become more pronounced and often there are fainting spells. All this shows that the blood is thin and watery, and at the very first symptom of this condition the patient should take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, the most reliable blood-builder and nerve tonic known. The sole mission of this medicine is to enrich the blood, and when that is done all the distressing symptoms disappear. Among those who have reason to praise this medicine is Mrs. M. E. Patterson, Shanklin, N.B., who says:—"About four years ago I became very much run down, I could not eat, sleep nor rest, and I grew so nervous that the smallest things would annoy me. Eventually I grew so weak that I did not have strength to move about without help. I was just a miserable wreck, and became very much discouraged as I had tried many medicines which failed to help me. In this wretched state a friend urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I did so and before long found they were helping me. Gladly I continued taking the pills until I fully regained my health and strength and I have since continued in the best of health. Later my daughter became anaemic and six boxes of the pills restored her to health, strength and color. Naturally I consider Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a blessing to weak, run-down people."

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Appointed Danish Consul

H. P. Madsen Will Represent Danish Government In Northern Alberta

H. P. Madsen, of the Edmonton City Dairy, has been appointed Danish Consul for Northern Alberta, with headquarters at Edmonton. Increasing Danish settlement, estimated at 3,700 in 1927, is given by the Danish Government as the reason for the establishment of the consulate. The territory will likely extend from Red Deer north.

British Army Men For Canada

Will Arrange To Place Demobilized British Soldiers On Land Here

Col. J. H. Stubbard, Commandant of the British Army Training Centre at Chisleton (Wiltshire), England, is now in Canada planning to draft out large numbers of demobilized British Army men to Canadian farms if satisfactory arrangements can be made with the Government and other organizations. Up to the present most of these men have gone to Australia, the Colonies states, where they have done splendidly. The course of farm training is thorough and begins six months prior to actual discharge from the army.

Takes Place Of Sight

Gauges In New Airplane Enables Pilot To Fly Blindly

An aeroplane which can find its own way about is the latest wonder. This has been invented by a French aircraft designer. A new set of gauges, which a pilot can learn to read in a few hours, takes the place of human sight.

Twelve French pilots were the first to give the new machine a trial. At the beginning each was inclined to spiral, and then to wobble a little, but when they had become used to their instruments, they were able to control their machines perfectly.

They flew blindly to a point thirty miles away, turned, and came back to the take-off. The new invention should be invaluable for flying by night or in fog.

For a City Beautiful

To make Ottawa second in beauty to none of the capitals of the world, is planned in a measure which proposes the expenditure of $200,000 annually for 30 years, with an immediate outlay of $3,000,000. One of the principal features of the improvement scheme, is the formation of a large central park.

Endorses Peace Treaty

Kellogg Plan Would Make Armies Useless Says Ramsay MacDonald

London.—When the great powers sign the treaty suggested by the proposals of the United States Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg, the armies and navies of the world will shrivel up, Ramsay MacDonald, former Labour Premier, declared before the American Chamber of Commerce at a luncheon.

"Sign a multi-lateral pact outlawing war," said the leader of the opposition in the House, "and these false securities we have faintly trusted, these defensive armies which have never protected us, will disappear, because they are useless."

Mr. MacDonald described the Kellogg peace note as "this magnificent declaration of simple fact."

With one part only of the British reply Mr. MacDonald found fault—that regarding self-defence.

"When such a treaty is signed," he said, "self-defence becomes unnecessary and any aggressor immediately becomes an outlaw."

Denies Dealing In Immigration Permits

Former Solicitor-General Declares Charge Is Wrong

Ottawa.—Hon. E. J. McMurray, former Solicitor-General, denied absolutely before the parliamentary immigration inquiry that he had dealt in immigration permits for $100 apiece as charged by Alderman M. J. Coldwell, of Regina, before the immigration committee.

"I was astounded and stunned to read in the papers the statements of Mr. Coldwell," Mr. McMurray said. "I denied it and welcomed the opportunity of coming before the committee and clearing away the charge. I was glad to read the denial of the minister of immigration. What he said was true. I have had no dealings with Mr. Forke since he has been in office."

Mr. McMurray explained he had been elected in 1921 from North Winnipeg, which was half foreign born. Many of these people wished to bring relatives to Canada.

"I assisted them, but I never charged them a cent," he said. The numbers had become so great that later on he had charged them telephone costs and such things. Then he had turned them away.

The records of Mr. McMurray's law firm of 1922 showed that seven applicants had been handled by his firm "in a strictly legal way."

The legal fees charged varied from $15 to $50. After his return to Winnipeg in 1926, four cases had been handled at fees of $25 each.

Frown On Sunday Labor

Alberta Will Take Steps To Enforce Lord's Day Act

Edmonton. — Attorney-General Lyburn is instructing the Commissioner of Provincial Police to notify all police detachments in the province that it will be the policy of the department to secure a wider and better observance of the law in respect to Sunday work.

The local police will be expected to co-operate with the citizens in maintaining respect for the provisions of the Lord's Day Act.

Mr. Lyburn points out that under the extreme weather conditions that have prevailed at critical periods of the past two years, considerable leniency in regard to the Sunday law has been exercised, because a certain amount of Sunday work on farms was unavoidable.

He says that this is not, however, to be taken as establishing a precedent, and the law of the land still stands. An effort is now being made to appeal to the interest and good judgment of the general public in the direction of better observance of the day of rest.

Gives Life To Aid Science

Doctor Studying Source Of Jungle Fever Succumbs To Disease

New York.—An expedition into Africa in an attempt to discover the relation between South America and African yellow fever resulted in the death of Dr. Hydeyo Noguchi, of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, the institute was advised.

Dr. Moguchi, discoverer of the source of South American yellow fever in 1916, died at Accra, West Africa. Recently he wrote to New York friends that he had been stricken with African yellow fever and had been in an African hospital from December 28, 1927, to January 9, this year.

He said his own was the first case of the disease to come under his observation and that from his bed he had directed the inoculation of a monkey with some of his own infected blood. The animal died 12 days later and additional experimentation, his letter said, disclosed the micro-organism responsible for the disease.

Says St. Lawrence Scheme Unnecessary

Report Given To Senate By Shipping Federation Officials

Ottawa.—"It is our firm conviction that as far as Canada is concerned the project is untimely and unnecessary," said A. L. W. MacCallum, manager of the Shipping Federation of Canada, to the Senate Committee on waterways with respect to the St. Lawrence project.

Mr. MacCallum assured the committee that the organization which he represented was concerned only with ocean shipping and that it was not wedded to any particular port or ports in Canada. It felt, however, that the immense expenditure on such a scheme as the St. Lawrence waterways could only be justified if it was proven that the benefits would be large.

The Federation had given special consideration to the matter and it has come to the conclusion that the expenditure at present was not warranted.

Buys Another Airplane

Baron Huenefeld Now Owns Sister Ship To the Bremen

Albany, N.Y.—Baron Gunther von Huenefeld, backer of the first successful westward flight across the North Atlantic, has purchased the Junker's plane Europa, sister ship of the Bremen, but what flight he plans in the new plane, are a matter of conjecture.

One report is that the German Baron, Captain Koehl, and Major Fitzmaurice, would attempt a return flight to Europe, having the new plane shipped to New York from Germany. Baron von Huenefeld, however, denies that such are his plans.

He said it was possible that the plane would be shipped to Ireland, and that he and Koehl would fly it there to Germany, but that the plans were indefinite.

Cost of C.N. Equipment

Thornton Will Serve On League Committee

President Of C. N. Railways Has Accepted Appointment

Major-General Raymond D. Can-dolle, former manager of the Great Southern Railways of Buenos Ayres, also has accepted an invitation to serve.

Montreal.—Sir Henry W. Thornton, K.B.E., chairman and president of the Canadian National Railways has accepted an invitation to become a member of the railway sub-committee of the advisory and technical committee on communications and transit of the League of Nations, it was announced here.

The sanction of the Federal administration to the acceptance of the invitation was given to Sir Henry by the Prime Minister and by the Minister of Railways and Canals.

As Sir Henry may not be able to attend some of the meetings, permission has been given to P. A. Clews, European traffic manager of the Canadian National Railways, located at London, to represent him when occasion requires.

May Not Be Nominated

Reported That Hoover's Chances For Republican Nomination Not So Good

Washington.—It is the well-founded fear in informed and influential Republican circles here that Herbert Hoover, prospective candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, cannot carry the country against Governor Alfred E. Smith, of New York, whose nomination as Democrat candidate seems assured, and this fear may eventually block Hoover's choice as party leader.

Hoover has identified himself with every policy of the Coolidge administration and is the popular Republican candidate. His nomination, however, is far from assured. The formal opposition to his candidacy within the party is fairly strong and well organized.

Coarse Grain Payment

This brings total payments to growers by the Coarse Grain Pool for the 1927 crop to the level of 53 cents a bushel for 2 c.w. oats, 75 cents for 3 c.w. barley; 1 n.w. flax, $1.75 per bushel; and 2 c.w. rye, 95 cents per bushel basis Fort William.

Many papers on important scientific problems and addresses by outstanding historians were delivered before various sections of the society.

An interesting paper was presented by W. P. Thompson, of the University of Saskatchewan. He displayed slides showing the effects of "crossing" wheats of various strains; how the chromosome numbers of wheat could be calculated in second generation plants, and many important points in the practical breeding of grains.

Wheat, for example, he said, can be crossed with rye, provided wheat is the female parent, but not if it is the male.

A sum of $35,000 has been placed at the disposal of the Royal Society as the nucleus of an endowment fund, by the Carnegie Corporation of New York, it was announced by Sir Robert Falconer, president of Toronto University.

The amount, he stated, will be retained exclusively for endowment purposes.

In reporting to the convention of the Society, Sir Robert said that the endowment committee had given consideration to the policy of raising a fund that would enable the society to be somewhat independent. The Dominion government, he said, so far had only given $6,000.

Other assistance, however, was being sought.

Sixteen new fellows were declared elected to fill vacancies in the council. They are: Sir Robert L. Borden, W. H. Boyd, Ottawa; Robt. H. Clark, Prof. J. S. Delury, Prof. D. C. Harvey, of the University of Manitoba; L. L. Stines, Saskatoon; Geo. W. Scarth, Montreal; Stanley Smith, Albert Ferland, Rev. Father Hugolin, Oskar Klotz, B. R. MacKay, Right Rev. F. X. Ross, James Malcolm Swaine, W. Stewart Wallace and W. T. Waugh.

Alberta Forest Fires

Fire Raging On Both Sides Of the Athabasca River

Calgary.—Fire is raging on both sides of the Athabasca River where it joins the Slave River at Smith, divisional point of the Edmonton, Dunvegan and B.C. railway, a telegram informed the Calgary office of the Dominion Forestry Branch.

J. R. Hall, supervisor of the Lesser Slave National Forest, is in charge of fighting the fire. It is not in the National forest but in the near vicinity.

T. F. Bieffen, district supervisor of fire protection, said that the fire hazard in the whole Northern portion of the province was dangerously acute owing to last year's growth of rank grass and absence of rain to any extent so far this season. No damage has been reported.

"If present weather continued it will be very difficult to keep the fires under control," Mr. Bieffen said.

Honors Go To B.C.

Brankston, of Nanaimo, a pupil of St. George's school, Crescent Beach, won a special prize awarded for geometrical drawing by the Royal Drawing Society of London. He took five honors and a pass for first place in the world, it is claimed, leading against 73,000 contestants.

NOTICE.

Change of Ownership.

With this issue of the DIDSBURY PIONEER, the control of this newspaper passes out of my hands and is assumed by Mr. W. C. Gooder of Olds, who has bought the business and property as it stands.

The change being made by the undersigned is due to personal reasons only, and were it not they were very important ones this announcement would not have been made.

I have to extend my cordial thanks to the business men of Didsbury for their support, and especially so for their friendship—a friendship, be it said, I have valued and appreciated to the full.

My thanks are also due to many in both town and country who have been good enough to contribute news items from time to time.

Mr. Gooder will take over the management to-morrow, Friday, June 1st, and will no doubt have an announcement to make next week in connection therewith. He is not altogether a stranger in newspaper circles, having for some years been connected with the Olds Gazette in an editorial capacity, and thus in this new venture of his will bring with him an experience that will stand him in good stead.

I trust he may receive the same support and given the same co-operation which has so willingly been extended to myself.

W. P. COTTON.

Wm. Wrigglesworth, an old and respected resident of Didsbury, 79 years of age, was found lying dead in his barn on Tuesday of last week. As he had for some time previously been treated by Dr. Clark of Didsbury for heart trouble an inquest was considered unnecessary. The funeral took place on Wednesday at Olds in the family burial plot.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Reist are leaving Didsbury and on Tuesday next will take their departure for Ohio, where they will visit with relatives for a time.

Divine service will be held at St. Cyprian's church on Sunday afternoon next at three o'clock, Mr. C. R. Harrison, lay reader of Bowden officiating.

BISHOP OF CALGARY AT DIDSBURY

The Right Rev. Dr. Sherman, Anglican Bishop of Calgary, accompanied by Rev. M. Orton of Innisfail, and Rev. H. Clay of Olds and Rev. Clay of Elnora, were the guests on Tuesday evening of last week of the members of St. Cyprian's, Didsbury. In addition there were also representatives from other churches in town.

The ladies of St. Cyprians had prepared a dainty supper, the tables being artistically decorated for the occasion. The whole function in fact gave every evidence of considerable forethought and ideal management.

The two wardens of St. Cyprians, W. Leadbetter and H. Booker, together with their wives, acted as conveners and attended to the introductions, Mr. Leadbetter also officiating later on as chairman in a short program. Those contributing to the latter comprised Mr. Boorman, Mr. Miller, Mr. Hugst, Miss Saugstad, Rev. Mr. Clay of Elnora, and Mr. Boorman.

During the evening the Right Rev. Dr. Sherman gave a splendid address, in which he referred with a great deal of pleasure to the cordial relations existing between the Anglican church and other denominations. He also dwelt at some length on the necessity of good citizenship, his remarks being received with hearty applause.

The Rev. gentlemen during their stay in Didsbury were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lowrie.

Bill—"Did you have words with your wife?"

Ted—Sure, but I couldn't use them.

"How grateful I am to D. D. D.—I was a sufferer from eczema for twelve years. I tried every ointment advertised for the disease. Some gave me temporary relief. I also went to doctors and specialists and with the disease only partly healed had to pay their bills. I tried D. D. D. and after the second bottle, began to see signs of healing. ## PEST ATTACKING SPRUCE TREES

(Calgary Herald)

A dangerous pest infests many of the spruce trees in Calgary's lawns, boulevards and gardens and unless immediate steps are taken to stamp it out, serious damage may be done to thousands of trees, according to W. R. Reader, parks superintendent.

The pest can be destroyed by spraying the trees with a solution of "Black Leaf 40," which contains nicotine sulphate. Mr. Reader stressed the need of taking this precaution at once, because unless the pest is killed off in its early stages, it may increase to even more dangerous proportions next season. It has the power to kill every spruce tree in Calgary.

In its present form, the pest is attached to the more tender twigs of the trees, and it looks white. If examined closely, this white substance is recognized as a fluffy covering for what appears to be a brown powder clinging to the twig. If examined under an ordinary magnifying glass, it will be seen that the brown powder is really a bundle of insect eggs.

Actual sales of Canadian Pacific Railway farm lands for the first three months of the year have been double those of the corresponding period of 1927. Enquiries for farm lands generally have increased in the same proportion.

Quebec, Quebec. — The mineral production of the Province of Quebec for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1928, will be well in excess of $30,000,000 if the activity continues, according to a statement from the Provincial Department of Mines, just issued.

Saint John. — The Maritime Provinces can find a good market in South and West Africa for their manufactured and natural products, according to D. J. S. Tyrer, who recently returned from there. A vast trade, he claimed, could be worked up in salt fish.

Vernon. — For the first time in the history of bee-keeping in British Columbia one bee-keeper in the Okanagan Valley has exported a full carload of honey from his own hives. His 250 colonies gave him an average of 175 pounds of honey per colony.

Ottawa. — A survey will be made this year for a Canadian air mail route between Montreal and Winnipeg. This will consist of determining the best routes and locating landing fields. Recent announcement of four air mail contracts between points in Eastern Canada forecast more extensive operations along this line at an early date.

Midland, Ont. — For the first time in the history of this progressive town, a through Canadian Pacific train left here early in May for Toronto, and the first C. P. R. through train arrived from Toronto later in the day. A bottle of champagne was broken across the fender of the C. P. R. locomotive as it pulled out of Midland.

Ski-ing in July and August will be a prominent feature of the combined winter and summer camp to be operated in the Canadian Rockies under the shadow of Mount Assiniboine by Marquis N. degli Albizzi. The winter sport is made possible by the fact of a huge glacier that runs down the slopes of the mountain. Summer sports of variety will also be possible at the camp, which is one of the beauty spots of that part of the Rockies traversed by the Canadian Pacific.

Toronto. — Premier G. H. Ferguson announces that the Government has signed a contract with the Canadian Pacific Railway for the supplying of two additional cars to be used as "travelling schools" in the outlying districts of the province. The cars will be equipped in Winnipeg and both will run out of Fort William, operating between that city and Superior Junction. At present two cars are in operation, both in Northern Ontario. Not only children of trappers and railway workers, etc., receive instructions in these travelling schools but night classes are arranged for adults.

All publicity is to be of a non-controversial character and it is planned to enlist the co-operation of the press throughout the province, in the form of intensified news day by day throughout the week, dealing with local or general educational topics and special articles by educationists and local teachers. Special sermons on education will feature the Sunday sermons in the churches on the opening day of the week; there will be a rally of parent-teacher associations or federations as well as special addresses by teacher speakers at service clubs and similar organizations. It is expected that all parties and organizations interested in education, including the Department of Education and the Alberta Trustees' Association and local school boards may be enlisted in the endeavor, and in the schools themselves special programs, comments by teachers and exercises by pupils and addresses by prominent citizens on the value of education will be featured.

The date tentatively planned by the committee is October 1 to 7.

The May meeting of the Westcott W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. Ray on Wednesday last with an attendance of 20. The topic "Canadian Industries" was taken by Miss M. Levagood. A flour sack apron contest was also held, the first prize going to Mrs. H. Levagood, and the second to Mrs. A. M. Robertson.

On June 4th from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. there will be a baby clinic held at the home of Mrs. A. Robertson, Sr., where all children of pre-school age will be examined free. This work is carried on by the Dept. of Public Health and all mothers with small children are urged to take advantage of the clinic.

Farmers' Marketing Tour

Canadian National Railways' Tour To Great Britain and Denmark, 1928

Our first engagement on the following day was to visit Liverpool Cathedral, one of the most beautiful examples of modern architecture in Great Britain and the largest ecclesiastical building in the country. It is 584 feet long and will take in all 75 years to complete. It has now been building twenty years. This wonderful cathedral is exceeded in size only by St. Peter's, Rome, Seville Cathedral, and St. John's Cathedral, New York. The style is Gothic and the building material red sandstone. The roof is of solid copper. It is the first cathedral to be consecrated in the northern counties for 600 years.

The memorial chapel to the men of the diocese killed in the War, is perhaps the most impressive part of the beautiful building. Here is to repose in a receptacle lined with pure cloth of gold, a book containing the names of 40,000 men of all creeds who gave their lives in the Great War. The volume itself has taken eight years to complete and has cost $30,000. The chapel is ringed with the crests cut in stone of the various regiments. At one end is a "Window of Sacrifice" in which are depicted some of the greatest acts of sacrifice in history. Flanking the Holy Table, which is beautifully wrought in solid oak, are two life-size bronze figures of a soldier and a sailor.

The ceiling of the nave is the loftiest in the land, rising 116 feet above the floor and the stained glass window at one end of the nave is the largest in the country. The organ has 168 stops and 10,960 pipes and is electrically operated. It cost 150,000 and is the biggest in the world.

We had fallen so much under the spell of the beautiful cathedral that we had to hurry to keep our appointment with the Liverpool Produce Exchange, operated by the Liverpool Provision Traders' Association. It is organized for trading in pork products (bacons, hams, sides, lard, meats in pickle); in butter, cheese, eggs, etc., and is, therefore, directly interested in Canadian trade. Its dealings are spot and c.i.f. except in lard which may be either option or spot. Its lard option market is the largest in Europe. The actual trading is practically all done privately and a large amount by telephone. Considerable interest was shown in our visit by the members who gave us a cordial welcome.

A tour of the Liverpool Fruit Exchange and Auction was illuminating. Each big brokerage firm has its own auctioneer. Dealers view the fruit before it is put up for auction, or, during the actual selling may be furnished with samples as they require them. To facilitate this an elevator in the centre of the pit brings up samples from the basement of each lot offered for sale. These may be left in boxes or spread out in large shallow baskets in order that all dealers may get a fair idea of the whole lot.

The auctioneers work at high pressure. Much trading is done by signal, and should the auctioneer miss a bid, as he occasionally does, the dealers express their disapproval by stamping. The auctioneer as a rule knows the name of every man in the pit. It is said that one man has sold as many as 16,000 boxes of apples in 20 minutes and on one occasion a whole shipload was disposed of in a similar space of time.

Before leaving Liverpool, we had opportunity to discuss with representatives of the provision trades some of the problems in marketing Canadian produce in Great Britain, and gained valuable information as to the requirements of the British market in bacon, cheese, butter and eggs.

We were now due to leave for Manchester in the magnificent motor coaches of the Globe Travel Company calling en route at the Walton Hall Piggery, the famous hog breeding centre owned by Lord Daresbury, whose herd of large Whites or Yorkshires has won awards at the most important shows in Great Britain. Several prize boars were brought out for our inspection and we were shown the spotlessly clean farrowing pens and some of the early season's litters. Individuals of this herd are shipped to breeders in South America, Italy, France, Hungary, Poland, Holland and Switzerland.

Manchester, Lancashire's greatest industrial city, although 35 miles from the sea, is the fourth port of Great Britain. This has been made possible through the construction of the Manchester Ship Canal, by which ocean-going steamers approach the very doors of the city.

Within a radius of 50 miles of Manchester there are as many people as there are in the whole of Canada, and within a radius of 100 miles there is a population of some 20,000,000, about half the population of England and Wales.

With such a great consuming area in its immediate environs, the importance of the Manchester market to all producers of food stuffs is at once apparent. It is for this reason that it was included in our itinerary. Its Smithfield Fruit and Vegetable Market covers six acres and is the largest of its kind in the United Kingdom. Other markets owned by the corporation cover 27 acres. There are also provided, adjoining the Ship Canal, extensive lairages for cattle and cold storage facilities for storing chilled and frozen meats.

We spent the morning in looking over the fruit, vegetable and produce market. The party was divided into groups with well informed guides, and was shown the produce in the market and the methods of carrying on business. From here we proceeded to the tobacco factory of the Co-operative Wholesale Society, where every operation in the making of cigarettes, cigars, plug, twist or other forms of tobacco was shown to us in detail and before leaving we were presented with a substantial box of cigarettes and also one of cigars.

We next saw the buying room of the C.W.S., whose samples of products were spread out for our inspection, also samples indicating the standards which they required for their purposes. We next proceeded to lunch in the great Assembly Hall at the head offices of the society, where we were addressed by two of the directors, Mr. Bradshaw and Councillor Sutton, who told us something of the history of the gigantic movement which has grown from a small organization of 48 affiliated societies to one with over 1,200, and resources exceeding $227,000,000.

JESUS FACING BETRAYAL AND DEATH

Golden Text: "Not what I will, but what Thou wilt."—Mark 14:36.

Lesson: Mark 14:1-42.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 22:1-5, 18, 19.

Explanations and Comments

The Announcement Of the Betrayal, verses 17-21. As Jesus and His twelve disciples were eating the paschal supper, Jesus suddenly said, "Verily I say unto you, One of you shall betray Me, even he that eateth with Me." With great amazement the disciples heard this startling prophecy. One of them, one of that little band whose lives had been so closely united with their Lord's, was to be guilty of so infamous a treachery!

"Is it I?" one by one they questioned. The form of the Greek implies a negative answer, as if each one said, "Surely it is not I!" "Who hath sailed about the world of his own heart, sounded each creek, surveyed each corner, but that there still remains therein much terra incognita to himself?" Thomas Fuller quaintly asks. The mood of the disciples was not that of self-sufficiency. They did not indignantly deny the charge, nor passionately affirm their loyalty. Nor did they ask, "Is it Judas?" "Is it Andrew?" Each with bated breath murmured, "Is it possible that it is I?"

This is the right attitude for every follower of Christ. Let us read all of our Lord's words in this spirit, asking ourselves what they mean for us, how they apply to us.

"It is one of The Twelve, he that dipeth with Me in the dish," Jesus added. The dish was the one containing the sauce of bitter herbs. No doubt all were doing this, and the words only emphasized the treachery of the betrayer. To John, Jesus indicated that it was Judas, John 13:26. "For the Son of Man goeth (to His death), even as it is written of Him." The cross was not an accident; the Lamb was slain from the foundation of the world. "But woe unto that man through whom the Son of Man is betrayed! good were it for that man if he had not been born." The last sentence is a proverbial expression for the most terrible destiny, "forbidding the thought of any deliverance, however remote." "Dante's estimate of the turpitude of Judas' crime—he places the betrayer in the lowest depths of the Inferno—is probably a truer expression of the horror of his deed felt by the unsophisticated conscience than are the modern attempts to explain away his guilt."—Wm. A. Grist.

Cute in a Baby-Awful at Three—and it's Dangerous

by Ruth Brittain

Thumb sucking does look sweet in a baby, but it is disgusting in the three-year-old and sometimes it hangs on until fifteen or sixteen! The habit may cause an ill-formed mouth or induce adenoids; and it always interferes with digestion. Pinning the sleeve over the hand; attaching mittens, or putting on cardboard cuffs, which prevent bending the arms at the elbows, are some of the ways to stop the habit.

Another bad habit—irregularity in bowel action—is responsible for weak bowels and constipation in babies. Give the tiny bowels an opportunity to act at regular periods each day. If they don't act at first, a little Fletcher's Castoria will soon regulate them. Every mother should keep a bottle of it handy to use in case of colic, cholera, diarrhea, gas on stomach and bowels, constipation, loss of sleep, or when baby is cross and feverish. Its gentle influence over baby's system enables him to get full nourishment from his food, helps him gain, strengthens his bowels.

Castoria is purely vegetable and harmless—the recipe is on the wrapper. Physicians have prescribed it for over 30 years. With each package, you get a valuable book on Motherhood. Look for Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper so you'll get the genuine.

With the letter in his hand Jack sat looking at his polluted house — his poor desolate, violated house, the emblem of his own life. He had built this house with his own hands, lovingly, taking pleasure in driving every nail and fitting every board. And now — and now — so it had been with his life — he had lived it cleanly, decently.

Try as he would, Jack could not believe that Helmi had forgotten him or been unfaithful to her marriage vow. If the worst he feared was true, it was some racial fault in her — Helmi had not sinned as an individual. What did he know of her traditions? He felt he knew her but little, although she was his wife. Nothing could alter that — she was his wife.

A dog came whimpering to the door. As Jack opened it the sable colie, thin and miserable, sorely neglected since old Sim had gone, looked timidly in at him. Jack recognized the animal — the crazy Englishman's dog. Mrs. McMann said the Englishman had stayed at his house six weeks before. Here was the proof, and this explained the letters . . . "Arthur Warner" . . . Jack had never heard his name. He had seen him though, a strange, uncouth, unshaven fellow.

Restraining a first impulse to drive the dog away, Jack coaxed her to come in, which she did, shiveringly. Her feet were sore, her nose hot. Jack went to the butcher shop and bought her some meat, when the hungry animal accepted gratefully. The dog was not to blame, whoever else might be.

The butcher told him about the dog. "The crazy Englishman had shot all his dogs but her. 'Cleo' is her name, and it seems he could not bring himself to shoot her. Old Sim looked after her until he got hurt and had to go to the hospital. Yes, sure, I'll give her bones. It's real good of you to be providin' for her. The Englishman wasn't any friend of yours either, was he?"

One resolve Jack arrived at — he must get out. He could not spend a night in his little broken house, every inch of which was so dear to him — the little house that had lost its soul.

When Jack left it he did not think of locking the door, although there were things in it, the stove, chairs, table, beds, for which he had paid his hard-earned money. But it did not matter now. His little house, which he had built so eagerly, had been violated.

Jack sealed his letters and returned them to the Post Office, then hired a team at the livery stable and drove to Bannerman, where he would catch a train for Edmonton. On the way he met the time-keeper, who apparently did not want to speak, for although Jack drew up his horses the other went on. Recognizing Jack, he feared embarrassing questions in respect to the money which had been owing. The time-keeper had one rule — if trouble seemed near make a wide detour and get around it. Something might happen before it again comes near — someone might die — the world might come to an end — the coming of the war had made all things possible. So, instead of stopping when he saw Jack drawing up his horses, he hurried on.

Jack believed the time-keeper's reluctance to speak was because of what had happened, and his heart grew still heavier. A pale moon and starlight enabled the horses to follow the trail, leaving him free to pursue his own gloomy thoughts. He thought, with a stab of memory, of the words he and Helmi said across the running water. The stream was silent now in its fetters of ice, and the marks of their feet in the soft, sandy banks had been obscured long ago. He wondered if Helmi had forgotten it — wondered, too, if he would ever be able to forget?

At the top of the hill, when the flickering lights of the little town came into view, Jack remembered Helmi's fears when they had come there together. "It is not a friendly place," she had cried, "it will bring bad luck! See, the houses are like angry cats about to spring!" And he had laughed at her for her foolish fancy. He marvelled now at her premonition of evil! And, try as he might, he could not overcome his love for her. He wanted her, his high-tempered Finn girl, whose eyes were so tender. Helmi, with the lovely shining hair and the eager questioning mind. No! if he had lost Helmi he had lost everything. Life could not hurt him any more! If Helmi had deceived him he was proof against misfortune. He might as well go to the war, there was no reason for his staying behind if Helmi were gone; and if he went he might meet Arthur Warner and pay off the score!

Having an hour to wait for the train, Jack wandered around the town. He did not wish to talk to anyone. The night was fine and clear, with Northern lights circling and folding in the sky with a crumpling sound like the rustle of silk. Pink and mauve, violet and amber, they advanced and retreated in endless manoeuvres, shooting, darting, rolling and unrolling, shimmering and dancing. He and Helmi had watched them with endless enjoyment from the north window of their own little house last year. A sudden impulse came to him to go and see the magistrate — he might know something. Anything would be better than this torturing uncertainty.

The magistrate was in and shook hands kindly — too kindly! Jack judged from his manner that he had some damaging evidence and that he was glad he had it.

"I came home today," Jack began at once, "expecting to find my wife, but they tell me she has gone to the city. I expected to be home a month earlier, but was delayed in the north. I can find no trace of her, nor any reason for her going. Do you know anything about her?"

"I did not know she had gone, until today," said the magistrate. "I had a letter from a friend of mine who saw her in the city."

Jack started eagerly. "Where in the city? I shall go there tonight."

The magistrate rubbed the bristles on his chin with a distinctly soiled forefinger, then with one thumb he pressed back the cuticle on the other until it hurt. He loved to do this. When he couldn't hurt anyone else he hurt himself. "I wouldn't try to find her, Mr. Doran, if I were you. She is

In a place where you would not be pleased to find her."

"I don't care where she is—she is my wife, and I will never believe that she had done wrong unless she tells me so. I know her better than you do."

"I am sorry for you, Mr. Doran, and that is why I am so patient with you. This Milander girl has gone back to her old associates, the Chinese. She is in one of the all-night eating-houses. I suppose you know what it means when a white girl goes into one of these places."

Jack sat staring at him. "Who was your friend who saw her there?"

"I would rather not tell—it is not necessary that I should—and he wrote in confidence. He knew I was interested. She evidently tired of the quiet life here—these girls crave excitement. There was some talk about her and the Englishman who owns the bungalow at English River. He stayed with her for a week before he enlisted. That is common talk at the mines. Men who are going out to fight, you know, like to take their fling."

He did not need to hurt his own thumb now—Jack Doran's face was enough. It had grown suddenly old and seamed and full of hatred. His nostrils quivered like those of a race horse.

He was about to go, but the magistrate waved him to a seat. "Mr. Doran, you were very indignant with me a year ago or a little less, when I dared to advise you. You were quite indignant, and of course I am ready to admit your feelings at that time were very creditable, very creditable—mistaken, but creditable. Since then you have had a bitter lesson, a very bitter lesson. I did not harbor any ill-will; on the contrary, I was still ready to be your friend. I was your friend, even though you scouted my friendship." Col. Blackwood leaned over, and his voice fell. "A man in my position does not expect thanks; we do not get thanks, but that is quite all right. We do not expect thanks, but I hope you see that I was trying to befriend you."

Crossword Puzzle For Blind

For the blind, a crossword puzzle has been produced in Paris. It consists of a piece of stiff cardboard made of many lines of individual squares, in which the blind can "peg" letters that make up words. Squares marked by cross lines take the part played by the solid black squares of ordinary crossword puzzles. Directions are given in Braille printing.

PRE-NATAL DIET

There is a phrase respecting Motherhood "for every child a tooth"—which is to say that during the period of formation of the little life certain changes take place in the mother's teeth causing them to decay and be more easily lost. And this is so. But why?

For the rearing of the little structure that is so quietly proceeding, the little bone-builders, in their construction of the bones and teeth, depend chiefly on the calcium salts. Should the mother's diet be deficient in these building stones, the little workmen are obliged to go to the only other available sources of supply, the bones and teeth, to meet their wants. Robbing Peter to pay Paul—if you will—yet the little structure must be reared at all costs. In such a case the mother's teeth are so structurally weakened as to invite disease.

Not only to avert this disaster to herself, but keeping uppermost the welfare of the coming infant, and remembering that she must contribute generously towards the influence that will make for normally developed teeth in her offspring, the expectant mother should select her diet with the utmost care. Hence she should choose plenty of lime-containing foods—milk, eggs, cereals, the leafy-topped vegetables and fresh fruits.

Following birth also, the demand for calcium in the mother's diet is still high since, with the infant feeding naturally, as it should, the mother's milk requires large amounts of these salts. An inadequate diet on the mother's part certainly affects harmfully her own teeth as well as those developing in the nursing child.

Moreover, it should be stressed that if the teeth are to be of good quality, the infant should at this time be naturally fed. The ravages of tooth decay have been found to be much greater among children who as infants had been artificially fed.

The expectant mother should take at least a quart of milk a day in addition to her other food. This will ensure a proper start of the teeth in the jaws of the infant at birth and as well the proper bony development of the child generally.

GIVE CONFIDENCE TO YOUNG MOTHERS

By Always Keeping Baby's Own Tablets In the House

A simple and safe remedy for the common ills of babyhood and childhood should be kept in every home where there is either a baby or a young child. Often it is necessary to give the little ones something to break up a cold, allay fever, correct sour stomach and banish the irritability that accompanies the cutting of teeth.

Experienced mothers always keep Baby's Own Tablets in the home as a safeguard against the troubles that seize their little one so suddenly and the young mother can feel reasonably safe with a box of these Tablets at hand and ready for emergencies.

Baby's Own Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative that act without gripping and they are absolutely guaranteed free from opiates or other harmful drugs. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

News from the Wheat Pool.

The date of the cut-off for the 1927 Pool has been fixed for Monday, July 16th. All who have wheat to be delivered should see that it is in the elevators before that date. In past years members have gone past the cut-off date and complained that they were not given sufficient notice. The Pool wants to make sure that the information is given wide publicity this year. July 16th is the cut-off date.

Members have until June 15th to send in their nomination for delegates. Nomination blanks are in the membership lists which recently were sent out. Each nomination to be valid must have the name of ten Wheat Pool members in the same sub-district as nominees. See to it that the man you want is properly nominated. Don't neglect this matter and then when it is too late complain about matters. The selection of delegates is a very important matter.

ter. The delegates are your representatives on the Pool organization. Their authority is supreme when it comes to a decision on Pool policies.

The International Wheat Pool Conference will be held in Regina for three days commencing June 5th. The Wheat Pool is planning on broadcasting the evening session of that Conference on Wednesday, June 6. On that evening the speakers will be: Hon. J. G. Gardiner, Premier of Saskatchewan; Hon. J. E. Brownlee, Premier of Alberta; Hon. R. A. Hoey, Minister of Education for Manitoba; Sir Thomas Allen, of the British Empire Marketing Board. It will be well worth your while to listen in to these addresses on the evening of Wednesday, June 6th.

The death of Mrs. Eliza Jones, mother of Mr. Joe Jones, of Westward Ho, occurred in Toronto on May 21, 1928, after a lingering illness of six months. Mrs. Jones lived in Westward Ho for some years with her son.
